

DIANE FUHRER PHOTOS
Campers (above) listen as instructor Candace Carriger explains the day's lesson. Campers are participating in the Perkins Center for the Arts summer camp. The current camp is exploring fairy tales and fables of Europe through writing, drawing, painting, storytelling and dancing. Top right, Sandra Griffiths works on dialogue based on song and movie titles.

DIANE FUHRER PHOTO
Beth Aberant freezes during a dance session at the Perkins Center for the Arts Stories & Tales camp. Campers participate in dance, painting, theater and storytelling during the two-week sessions. The campers will get a chance to showcase what they learned during a performance from 11:30 a.m. to 12:15 p.m. Aug. 19, the final day of camp. The camp has four sessions each summer. Registration for fall classes at Perkins begins at 9 a.m. Aug. 22. For more information, call (856) 233-6488 or visit perkinscenter.org.

DIANE FUHRER PHOTOS

Ben Powell freezes during a movement class held in the center's carriage house.